Dear Sir:

I am writing to enclose check for balance due you for service rendered in publicizing the opening ball game in Newark.

It is unfortunate we did not get together about the news releases after the game. You sent them out last year, and I thought it was understood I expected the same service of you this year. It was just one of those things, and there is no reason for any hard feelings. You feel I was neglectfull in not nameing a deadline for the termination of your service, and I was sure our contract was the same as last year when you took care of publicity including the opening game.

The incorrec t score you spoke of in the paper was due to the fact the paper called me on the telephone for some news, and I gave them the information as best I remembered it. I was very happy to get the story in.

I will be very glad to see the pictures you made at the opening game. I hope you have some action pictures of individual players. There are something I could really use. Bring them by when you have time, or drop them in the mail. What price are you asking for them? If you have some I want I would like to have them as soon as possible.

Very Truly Yours
